

We continue our cycle of monthly messages for 2020 with the message for August 1, 2012 for our prayer groups and personal reflection.

Jesus

Dear apostles, how I long for your fidelity. One apostle who remains faithful and attentive can bring about an enormous amount of change in the world over the course of his life. But there is a great deal of distraction around matters which are of small consequence. These distractions obscure matters of greater importance, and indeed even matters of urgency. Dear apostles, I am inspiring the faithful leaders in my Church to point to me and to those matters which are of concern to me. Will you, my faithful apostles, listen to your leaders? Or will you be distracted? Will you pursue my goal for you by allowing me to live through your yes answer to me? If I have your fidelity, then you will be richly blessed and the world will be richly blessed, also. If I have your fidelity, I will consider you a friend, the closest of confidantes, and you will come to understand what is in my heart. I am the King of love and there is only love in my heart for humanity. It is for this reason that I have alerted you and called you into dedicated service as my apostle. If you recognize me, Jesus Christ, as your King, then you must remain firmly fixed on service to me. I will not abandon you. My gaze will remain firmly fixed on you and together we will bring about the most merciful renewal for all who crave love. Be deeply peaceful. I am with you. All is well.
